Roger Dery Gem Design

Join us in Supporting Metastatic Breast Cancer Research

October 4, 2016

Dear Friends,

Roger and I especially love one consistent phenomenon about gemstones: they are always doing good among people or bringing about a positive end. We have an opportunity to do this again: one of our favorite gems needs a new home and, in the process, will help a worthy cause.

32.77ct Madagascan Morganite

The owner of the Madagascan Morganite above set in the stunning ring below created by Peter & Co. Jewelers of Avon Lake, Ohio, is part of METAvivor, a community of people living every day against the odds of stage 4 breast cancer. They are fighting for the continuation of research that could save their lives. The ring itself was designed to commemorate the owner's own battle with breast cancer.

The owner needs funds to travel to Washington D.C. to lobby Congress on October 13. The sale of the ring would fund the trip and continue the efforts to increase funding for metastatic disease that could not only help save her life, but also the approximately 30% of early stage breast cancer survivors that will become metastatic in their lifetime. For more information on METAvivor, the only organization in which 100% of all donations from supporters are allocated to metastatic breast cancer research grants, please visit www.metavivor.org .

We hope you'll consider cherishing this ring as a remembrance of the lives lost, the battles occurring every day, and the people working toward a treatment. If you are interested in acquiring this ring, please contact Theresia at 440-933-4871 or Theresia@peterjewelers.com .

Please join us in supporting metastatic breast cancer research by distributing this message in hopes of finding a new owner for this ring, helping the owner travel to Washington D.C., and raising awareness of this vicious disease.

Thank you for always joining us in giving back,
Roger and Ginger
